

Take My Hand I'm a Strangler in Paradise

Please note this title is meant to be sung with the tune from "Take my hand I'm a stranger in paradise"

Well we are officially in the tropics - nothing but rainforest, waterfalls, tropical wildlife, palms, ferns etc. etc. and it goes on and on and on. Sounds boring but its not. I still haven't found two identical ferns, though I did see two that could be related. Instead of boring you with words I think it best I skip straight to the pictures and bore you with them instead.

Sunrise at Cape Tribulation

Mossman Gorge

Wujal Wujal Falls

As I formulate this piece of world wide webography, we are staying at Cape Tribulation, the start of Cooks problems with the Barrier Reef.

At this tidy little spot, where the "rainforest meets the reef", we were treated to live entertainment by that well known TV celebrity and game show host... none other than Gerryyyyyy Lieghhhhh..... Yaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaay.

I have absolutely no idea who he is either, other than he sings your favorite hits from the 60's to the 90's (I think that was actually his target demographic).

So back to the cryptic title.....

Strangler Fig (host tree completely rotted away)

One more pic for Ollie

Hey, you have to take the good with the bad if you're going to read this stuff. There is a delete key you know.